1. SUMMARY & PURPOSE

Program Objectives

The National Coalition for Asian Pacific American Community Development (National CAPACD), with generous support from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, announces the 2026 OurNeighborhoods Peer Learning Program. This program fosters a space where participants working in community-based organizations (CBOs) can support one another in advocating against gentrification and displacement of low-income Asian Americans, Native Hawaiians, and Pacific Islanders (AAs and NHPs). Hosted by National CAPACD's Neighborhood & Place-based team, the program aims to: 1) strengthen the capacity of CBOs to engage in organizing work that prevents/stops displacement and gentrification impacting low-income AA and NHPI communities; and 2) build a peer learning network of organizers who are committed to this work.

Who Should Apply

National CAPACD invites community-based organizations (CBOs) that organize low-income people around the issues of gentrification and displacement in a multiracial community and serve a significant AA and NHPI population to apply.

Building on the success of our anti-displacement community organizing toolkit (available at aapineighborhoods.org), the OurNeighborhoods Peer Learning Program supports anti-displacement projects that include, but are not limited to, strategies such as forming tenant associations; organizing constituents to advance affordable housing or community development policies; and engaging communities in community-led planning. National CAPACD is actively seeking applicants who build the leadership of directly impacted communities to engage in policy change campaigns and democratic processes. (see Section 8 Selection Criteria for more information).

Program Information

Program activities will include peer discussions, trainings, and dedicated space to workshop new ideas. Potential topics for the discussions and trainings may include: tenant rights, community development, outreach strategies, grassroots leadership development, and narrative change. Participants may be assigned to small groups based on their organization's issue area to allow for deeper, more nuanced discussions. Participants will also work with a technical assistance provider specializing in tenant organizing and community land trusts.

Participants will be required to:

- Attend a virtual orientation and cohort meetings;
- Present on their organization's work and expertise;
- Arrange a one-on-one session with the technical assistance provider; and
- Participate in an in-person convening (pending COVID-related safety conditions).

Tentative dates are listed in the table below.

10. ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Frequently Asked Questions:

1. How does National CAPACD define “community organizing”?

We define community organizing as “bringing people together to use their collective power to change culture and material conditions and to challenge existing power structures.” For more key definitions related to community organizing, please refer to Lead Local's glossary linked here.
2. Do I need to be a paid National CAPACD member organization or current subgrantee to qualify for funding?

Being a dues-paying member is not a requirement for eligibility for funding. We will, however, take into consideration the length and quality of engagement between applicant organizations and National CAPACD.
3. My organization is not AA and NHPI-led but does work with AA and NHPI communities. Can I still apply for funding?

Yes, all local community-based organizations that advocate for low-income AA & NHPI communities are eligible to apply.
4. My organization is national or state in scope or focus. Can we still apply for funding?

National CAPACD is prioritizing locally-serving organizations for this funding opportunity.
5. I'm having trouble accessing the grant portal. Whom can I contact for help?

If you experience any challenges with the application portal, please email ourneighborhoods@nationalcapacd.org.
